excerpt from the latter day saints millennial star vol 67 may 18 1905 in common with all books the book of mormon has its spirit produces its effects upon the minds of men and as it claims to be a work originally written and also translated through the inspiration of god and deals primarily with sacred things it is to be expected that the spirit of this book will have not only a good but even a divine influence that it will be of a faith promoting doubt dispersing comfort bringing character its effect upon the minds of men therefore may be another test of its claims to a divine origin and to that test i now submit it in his work entitled my first mission the late president george q cannon makes the following statement respecting the influence exerted over his spirit by reading the book of mormon under the trying conditions in which he was placed while serving as a missionary in the hawaiian islands about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works excerpt from the latter day saints millennial star vol 67 april 27 1905 when i next regained my senses i was half a mile down the canyon from the place where i began to load and was seated upon the logs which were loaded in the exact position that i had designed to put them three on the bottom and two on the top of the three all were nicely bound with chains i was sitting upon my sheep skin with the woolly side up my whip was on my load carefully so it could not lose my overcoat home made jeans lay across the load in front of me but within my reach as i arose from my stupor i spoke to my oxen and they stopped and i viewed my surroundings with feelings that cannot be described i quickly took my bearings as i was familiar with every point in the canyon being quite cold i essayed to jump from the load and put on my overcoat but to my surprise my limbs refused to do my bidding they were so sore and my body was so badly bruised i sat there and reposed for a few moments upon my peculiar situation i looked around my load and found everything in place just as i would have put things myself my axe was firmly bedded in the but end of one of the logs and everything else was in first class condition after making another unsuccessful effort to get from the load i reached my coat put it on as best i could in a sitting posture and started my oxen for home i arrived safely about an hour later than my usual time my wife was very uneasy about me on account of the lateness of my arrival and because of the fear ever present with her during the whole day that something would happen to my injury she met me at the corral and carried me in her arms to the house which she was then quite able to do i weighing but a little over a hundred pounds i was placed in a comfortable position on the bed and she then cared for my team for some days she carefully nursed me before i was able to move around the house about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
